XDAY ......JULYe1, 1878.

MANCHESTER AND VICINITY. The Personnel of the New City Fathers The City Council which goes into office to day is almost an entirely new body. The member longest in continuous service is Mr. Batcheller, of the Fourth Ward, elected May, 1876. Mr. Perdue, of the Second Ward, has served before and longer than any other member. The oldest member is Mr. Owens, of the Third Ward. Mr. Owens is also the largest tax-payer in the Council, and the only one who has ever served on the old Town Trustees. The youngest member is Mr. Gentry, of the First Ward. The handsomest member is Mr. Patteson, of the Fourth Ward. It would take a very discriminating jury to select the most homely one. The oldest inhabitant is Mr. Gary, of the Fourth Ward. The one last to make his home in our midst is Mr. Batcheller. The heaviest weight is Mr. Gallegher, of the Second Ward, who is also the lowest in stature. Mr. Batcheller is the tallest. It might not be prudent to mention the champion light weight, for fear of a misconstruction. Mesers. Owens and Kahn are the only citizens of foreign birth. Mr. Perdue is the only native of Manchester. Mr. Batcheller is a Marylander by birth. With the exceptions mentioned, the rest are native Virginians. In politics, all are Conservatives; in religion, slightly mixed-all creeds being represented. The trades are represented by two machinists and engineers, one miller, one carpenter, two accountants, one painter, one capitalist, one druggist, one butcher, one tobacconist, and one contractor. Taken as a whole the Council is a fair representative of Manchester's wealth, intelligence, and honest industry. The Third Ward members desire it to be stated that they will do what they can to make jobbers howl, and don't want to be owing anything when they go out. It is hoped that the ensuing term will be honorable and successful alike to the city and to the members.

Hustings Court-Jurors Drawn .- The following is a list of the grand jurors drawn for the term of the court commencing July 15th : Decatur Edwards, John T. Dowdy, E. S. Moody, Alexander Baxter, A. B. Heath, O. B. Sims, A. J. Gallegher, Edward Vickers, J. T. Ashworth, W. H. Cook, W. S. Blankenship, Edward Gallegher, Samuel R. Owens, E. O. Angell, A. C. Brandis, E. Shipp, W. H. Walker, W. G. Owen, W. C. Day, Joseph Davison, W. G. Lovell, T. W. Crow, W. F. Harrisop, and John H. Foster.

Funeral of an Old Resident .- The funeral of Walter C. Day, an old resident, took place Saturday evening. The deceased was a well-known school-teacher of this city. During the early part of the war he was a lieutenant in the Manchester Elliott Grays, Puck. of Mahone's old brigade. He was a bro-ther of the late William Wallace Day, the celebrated lawyer. Mr. Day, while of a re-tiring and reticent nature, was said to possess many good traits, and in his younger days was a man of infinite jest and the greatest practical joker in this city, and the news of his death was heard with sincere regret by many friends.

past month; of this number fourteen were misdemeanors, ten ordinance violations and jy 1-eod2w misdemeanors, ten ordinance violations, and one lunatic. Four parties were whipped and discharged, and one whipped and sent to the chain-gang.

Again Postponed.—Owing to the in-clement weather of last Friday night the installation of officers of Manchester Royal-Arch Chapter was postponed until the next regular meeting.

The City Dam .- The coping at the The City Dam. — The coping at the head of the city water-gates, which was so badly damaged at the great freshet of last fall, has been repaired, and the other work is progressing favorably.

To Be Taken Down .- City Sergeant Fitzgerald, having received a favorable response from Superintendent Black, of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, will to-morrow convey to Williamsburg Bradford Woody, lately adjudged a lunatic.

Work Suspended .- Operations at the Marshall Cotton Mills were suspended Saturday. This announcement had been anticipated in the Dispatch. Some repairs are to be made, and it is hoped that the suspension will be but temporary.

Base-Ball.—A toughly-contested game of base-ball, occupying two hours, took place Saturday evening between the Key West and Greenhorn Clubs of this city. The score resulted-Key West, 11; Greenhorns, 7. There was some good playing on both sides. Mr. Thomas Davis, of the Red Stocking Club, acted as umpire.

Closed for Repair.—The Manchester Paper-Mill will be closed for the next two weeks on account of necessary repairs. Superintendent Wallace has gone north in the interest of his company, and will return in a few days.

Mortuary Report .- There were nine interments at Maury Cemetery last month, two of which were colored-a very encouraging report for this season.

The Concert .- The entertainment for the benefit of Company A, Richmond Fire Department, at the court-house Saturday night, was well attended, and passed off successfully and enjoyably .. It will be repeated to-

The New Municipal Year .- The new City Council meets for organization tonight, and the new city officers commence their terms of office to-day. The old justices of the peace bold over until their suc-

Look to the East. BY ALEXANDER ANDERSON, KIRKCONNEL, SCOT

LAND. The dead man came from out the grave, He grasp'd my hand and said, "Be brave." I cried, "So very far away, Yet Thou hast sympathy with clav?"
He said, "What would it profit me
To turn from thy humanity?"
"Alas!" I sigh'd, "I am but dust,
And the old failing of mistrust Comes up within me, and I fear I falter with no purpose here." The dead man stood like one who saith A prayer, then ask'd, " Hast thou no faith?" I look'd at him; within his eyes The tears rose up as in surprise. Then I made answer to his thought— "Thou knowest all and I know naught." Across his brow a shade of pain Pass'd, but to leave it clear again. He ask'd, reproach his voice within, "Art thou, 100, smitten with that sin Which looks before this life, to seek What God Himself will never speak Until this death we paint so grim, Guide thee through the dread grave to Him? I how'd my head as if in shame To hear the dead man's gentle blame. Then, sweet and low, he spoke again, Hast thou faith in thy fellow-men?" Yea," I returned, "for still my Mand Toll to have something good behind; Which, in the unborn after years, Will ripen kindly with their peers. I paused, and he, when this was said. Laid one soft hand upon my head. And thus made answer, ere I wist. Behind thy kind, work God and Christ, And all the marvels men can do Are but the shadow of these Two. Whom, then, deserves thy greater trust. God, Christ, or men, who are but dust?"

I knelt down at the dead man's feet; His tears fell on me soft and sweet. He raised me up, and hand in hand We stood, as two together stand. Then breast to breast, within my ear He whisper'd words of love and cheer. Such words a living mortal may Not whisper, but the dead can say. Then said, as he touch'd lips and eyes, Look to the east; the sun will rise." I turned; my soul was strong again To trust Goo, Christ, and tolling men. And still when doubt wakes from its rest, That dead man clasps me to his breast. And soul to soul like friends respond:
Mine from this earth; his from beyond.
Mine sighs, "I falter"; his replies.
'Look to the east; the sun will rise."

Here it is, Colonel E .: John Bartlett has traced the origin of the familiar line, "Though lost to sight, to memory dear." In a letter from Cambridge to the Evening Post he quotes a song of twenty-six lines, beginning with the wellknown words. He says that the song was composed for Augustus Braham. The words and music are by George Linley, who was born in 1798 and died in 1865. It is not known when the song was written, but it was set to music and published by Cramer, Beale & Co., in London, about 1848 .- New York Tribune.
